The Context Sensitive Legend relates to the Map Theme Highlighted on the Left

The screenshot displays the nwmaps.net web application interface. At the top, the logo "nwmaps.net" is visible. Below it is a search bar with the placeholder text "Enter an Address, a Parcel Number or Place of Interest:". A red circle highlights the "Legend" button in the top navigation bar, which is part of a set of buttons including "Basemap", "Highlight", "Measure", "Jump to City", and "Parcel Map". On the left side, a vertical menu lists various map themes: "Zoning and Property", "Permits and Construction", "Parks and Trails", "Commercial Property", "Environmental" (highlighted in blue), "Geology", "Community Information", "Service Areas & Districts", "Demographics", and "Transit". The main map area shows a street map of Renton, WA, with various environmental features overlaid, including a stream, wetlands, and floodplains. A "Map Legend" window is open on the right side, displaying a list of environmental information with corresponding color-coded symbols: "City Limit" (dashed blue line), "Stream" (blue line), "Lake" (blue square), "Wetland" (green square), "Wetland Buffer" (light green square), "Stream Buffer" (light blue square), "Floodway" (light green square), and "Floodplain" (blue square). The bottom of the page contains a footer with copyright information: "© 2011 eCityGov Alliance. Contact Us | FAQ | Privacy Policy | Disclaimer".
